About Us

PT Altura Agra Mas is an Indonesian producer and exporter of essential oils, specializing in patchouli, citronella, and nutmeg oil.

We focus on consistent quality, reliable supply, and clear documentation to support international buyers. Our approach emphasizes traceability, batch-based quality control, and responsive communication.

Working closely with local sourcing networks, we aim to deliver products that meet export standards while maintaining competitive pricing and long-term partnership value.

Where We Source

All of our essential oils are sourced from key producing regions across Indonesia, working closely with established local distillation communities.

Indonesia is one of the world's leading producers of essential oils, known for:

- Favorable tropical growing conditions
- Skilled distillation expertise
- Long-standing cultivation traditions
- Consistent raw material availability

By working with a curated network of sourcing partners, we ensure:

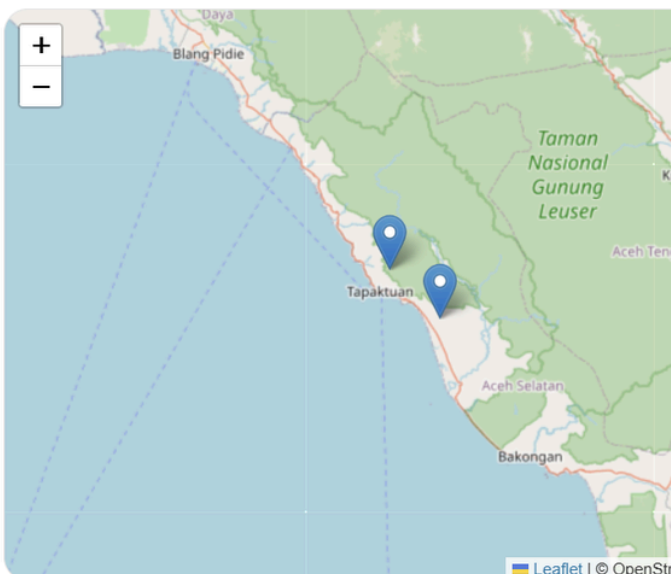

- Controlled supply chain
- Better quality consistency
- Direct relationships with producers
- Improved traceability and transparency

Traceability

From Plantation to Export Batch

At Altura Agra Mas, every batch of oil can be traced back to its originating plantation and distillation source in Indonesia.

We operate a structured traceability system covering all oils sourced from Indonesia.
